Federal TEACH Grant

The Federal Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant Program can provide up to $4,000* per year in grants for graduate and undergraduate students, in specified majors, who intend to teach full-time in high-need subject areas for at least four years at schools classified as serving low-income students.

Students may receive up to $16,000 for undergraduate study and up to $8,000 for graduate study. Undergraduate students must be taking a full-time (12 credit hours) class load in order to be eligible. Graduate students are eligible if they are taking a part-time (3 credit hours) class load.

Due to sequestration, award amounts for any TEACH Grant must now be reduced by a pre-determined percent for which a recipient would otherwise have been entitled. For example:

- For any 2020-21 TEACH Grant first disbursed on or after Oct. 1, 2020, and before Oct. 1, 2021, the maximum award of $4,000 is reduced by 5.7% ($228), resulting in a maximum award of $3,772.
- For any 2021-22 TEACH Grant first disbursed on or after Oct. 1, 2021, and before Oct. 1, 2022, the maximum award of $4,000 is reduced by 5.7% ($228), resulting in a maximum award of $3,772.

Financial Aid

GRANT-BECOMES-LOAN PROVISION

If you receive a TEACH Grant but do not complete the required teaching service, you will be required to repay the grants as a Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan, with interest charged from the date of each TEACH Grant disbursement. Therefore, while students intending to teach can benefit from this grant money, accepting the TEACH Grant is unlike any other federal grant program and should be done only after much thought and planning.

If your grant is converted to a loan, due to the reasons below, you will be provided with TEACH Grant conversion counseling by the U.S. Department of Education

- if you didn't begin or maintain qualifying teaching service within a timeframe that would allow you to complete the service obligation within the maximum eight-year period, or
- if you asked the U.S. Department of Education, Federal Student Aid to convert your grant to a loan
