Financial Aid

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

Law Students
The Higher Education Act (HEA) of 1965, as amended, requires institutions that receive and disburse Federal Title IV aid to develop and enforce, annually, their standards of satisfactory academic progress (SAP). These requirements encourage students to successfully complete courses for which financial aid is received and to progress satisfactorily toward degree completion.

It is our institutional policy to not certify a Private Loan if the student is not meeting Satisfactory Academic Progress standards. The University of Dayton is committed to helping students make responsible financing decisions and encourages students to instead, complete a Financial Aid Appeal. More details on the Appeal Process are located on page 2 and 3.

Determination of Progress
GPA and Pace Criteria: At the University of Dayton, law students who take advantage of federal student loans are expected to successfully complete at least 75 percent of their attempted credit hours each academic year and to maintain a 2.00 cumulative grade point average. Successful completion of a course is defined as receiving a grade of A, B, C, D, CR or S. The grading marks of F, NC, I, W, X, IP or P and audited courses will not be considered as successful completion of a course. Cumulative grade point average is calculated as the total number of cumulative quality points divided by the total number of cumulative credit hours. Marks of CR, I, K, IP, P, S, W, X and NC are disregarded in the computation of the cumulative GPA. Additional details about repeat coursework and transfer credits hours impact on GPA is included in the sections below.

Maximum Timeframe Criteria: We will also measure the progress toward your degree completion by calculating the number of hours you have earned in comparison to the published length of your program. Federal regulations require that students must not exceed a maximum timeframe of completion of 150%. For example, if your program requires 120 hours in order for completion, you must not exceed attendance of 180 credit hours.

Students who do not meet the required standards of GPA, Pace or Maximum Timeframe will lose their eligibility for financial aid. If you do not meet any of these requirements, your financial aid eligibility for the next year will be revoked and you will be notified by e-mail. Your SAP status will also be viewable via Porches. In order to regain your eligibility to receive federal student aid, you must satisfactorily improve your cumulative grade point average and/or make up the deficient credit hours at your own expense. You may either attend the University of Dayton or another institution, provided the credit hours can be transferred to the University of Dayton and provided that you do not receive any federal Title IV Funds while attending that institution.

Change of Major/Degree
If during the course of your academic career, you change your major/degree, this can be taken into consideration, if you are appealing the maximum time frame or cumulative grade point average requirement. A change of major/degree is not an automatic appeal approval.
Pursuit of Second Degree
Students seeking a second law degree are subject to the maximum timeframe component for law study. Once it has been verified that you are pursuing a second law degree, we will determine the maximum timeframe requirement for you.

Incomplete Grades
If you have a grade of incomplete (grades of 'I', 'IP') in a course at the time the Satisfactory Academic Progress calculation is completed your aid eligibility can be affected. These letter grades count as attempted hours but do not count as earned hours and will negatively impact your academic progress. Once an incomplete grade is updated with a final grade, the cumulative GPA will be recalculated accordingly. If you have a grade changed after our initial determination, please contact us within 30 days of the grade change via walk-in, phone or email and we will review your new progress based on the updates to your academic record. If you are still deficient of SAP requirements, an appeal will be required in order for you to regain eligibility.

Repeated Coursework
If you repeat courses in accordance with university policy, those hours will be included as attempted hours. After a retake course is completed, the higher of the grades earned will be used in the calculation of the student’s cumulative GPA. In addition, you may only take a specific course and receive a passing grade twice and still receive federal aid for this course.

Remedial/Developmental Courses
These courses are not considered in the calculation of your grade point average and are not included as part of the maximum timeframe.

Transfer Hours
Coursework that is transferred towards your degree will be included in both attempted and earned hours. Transferred coursework does not include a GPA and therefore is not included in the cumulative GPA.

Withdrawal from a Course/All Coursework
Courses for which you enroll but do not complete will be counted as attempted hours.

Summer Enrollment
Progress is reviewed at the end of the academic year in May. If you are enrolled in summer class, we will review your grades upon completion upon request from you.

Appeal Process to Re-establish Eligibility
If there are extenuating circumstances that prevented you from making satisfactory progress, you may appeal our decision to withdraw your financial assistance. You will be asked to explain the reason(s) for your inability to meet the Satisfactory Academic Progress standards. In addition, you’ll need to share with us what steps you’ve taken to ensure your ability to meet Satisfactory Academic Progress standards at the next evaluation point. Appeals should explain past deficiencies and provide a realistic, personal plan for academic success. It is imperative that the student explains why they were unable to meet Satisfactory Academic Progress standards and demonstrate what has changed that will enable them to meet SAP requirements at the next evaluation point. Appeals will be reviewed within two weeks of receipt and you will be notified of a decision via email. Reasons for appeal that will be considered include medical conditions or serious personal or family circumstances that impacted your ability to meet standards.

Aid Eligibility Reinstated Under Financial Aid Probation
If an appeal is reviewed and approved, a student becomes eligible to receive financial aid under a status of 'Financial Aid Probation'. Students who are receiving aid under a status of Financial Aid Probation will have specific requirements that must be met to continue receiving financial aid. Aid eligibility for students under Financial Aid Probation will continue as long as the student meets the specific terms noted in the approved appeal or is meeting overall Satisfactory Academic Progress standards. Students receiving aid under a status of Financial Aid Probation will be re-evaluated for continuing eligibility at the end of the first term in the new academic year. If a student is no longer meeting the required conditions, they will be notified via email that they have lost eligibility for financial aid based due to no longer meeting SAP standards.
