WELCOME TO THE OSHER LIFELONG LEARNING INSTITUTE AT THE UNIVERSITY OF DAYTON

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (UDOLLI) began 28 years ago as the University of Dayton Institute for Learning in Retirement or UDILR. Since 2004, we have been proud members of the Osher Lifelong Learning Network, a group of more than 100 institutes across the country dedicated to meeting the needs of adult learners over 50 years of age who wish to gather for the joy of learning and personal fulfillment.

OUR MISSION STATEMENT

The purpose of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Dayton is to offer adults 50 years or better a wide variety of seminars based on the peer-learning concept and designed to be intellectually stimulating in an informal and noncompetitive environment.

We are a vibrant community

We are adults with wide-ranging interests in art, current events, health and fitness, history, literature, music, religion and science. A curriculum committee works with the Executive Director of Special Programs and Continuing Education to select our curriculum on the basis of member requests, the expertise of moderators, variety, and balance. Moderators include University of Dayton (UD) professors and community professionals who lead peer-to-peer informal lecture and discussion seminars that typically meet once a week for two hours, for three to eight weeks.

Our seminars are noncredit

There are neither tests nor grades, nor educational requirements. Participation is essential, ranging from keeping up with assigned readings and contributing to seminar discussion to sharing the results of one's own research. A majority of our seminars are held on the University of Dayton River Campus in Daniel J. Curran Place, 1700 South Patterson; others are on the UD main campus with a few at off-site locations, such as the Boonshoft Museum of Discovery. The map on page 51 identifies the location of Daniel J. Curran Place and other UD buildings.

UDOLLI is a cooperative venture

We rely on the contributions and participation, both in seminars and out, of each member. Members assist the Executive Director of Special Programs and Continuing Education by moderating seminars, coordinating lecture series, leading small group discussions, organizing activities and volunteer projects, serving on the board of advisors and committees, acting as seminar liaisons, helping in the office and volunteering for all other tasks that keep us going.

Becoming a member of UDOLLI is easy

Registering for seminars is simple and convenient. Pages 49 and 50 give complete registration information and procedures. Once you register for a seminar, you automatically become a UDOLLI participating member for the current academic year. The term of membership conforms to the academic calendar, beginning in September and ending in June.

Friends of the Institute are individuals who donate $80 or more each year to support UDOLLI's goals; Life Members are individuals making a one-time donation of $2,000 or more; and Distinguished Service Life Members are individuals giving UDOLLI extraordinary service. Life and Distinguished Members may attend seminars at no cost.

We are part of the University of Dayton's Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education, which is directed by Julie Mitchell and sponsors lifelong learning and professional development programs. Founded in 1994 as the University of Dayton Institute for Learning in Retirement, we have grown from the original 98 members to more than 2,000 members.

Enjoy member benefits

As a UDOLLI member, you are invited to participate in UDOLLI activities and related continuing education-sponsored events such as the Duane W. Chapman Senior Symposium, Senior Fellows graduate/undergraduate audit program, New Horizons Music, Dayton Celebration Chorus and University programs. Pages 46-47 gives more information about these programs.

As a UD community member, you are invited to participate in UD-sponsored activities such as lectures, recitals, and art and cultural events, and enjoy campus privileges such as Roesch Library and the RecPlex (membership fee required). You're welcome to shop at the UD bookstore and eat at the campus coffee bars or ArtStreet Café. For identification, you'll use your name badge received upon registering for your first seminar.

You may qualify for a grant

If you meet certain financial criteria, you may qualify for a UDOLLI grant, entitling you to enjoy all UDOLLI member benefits and attend seminars at no cost or a reduced cost. Please contact Julie Mitchell at jmitchell1@udayton.edu, or call the office of Special Programs and Continuing Education at 937-229-2605 for additional information. All requests are confidential.

Are you interested in moderating a seminar?

UDOLLI is grateful to its volunteer moderators who share their knowledge and provide a comprehensive curriculum. Moderators become Friends of the Institute for the academic year in which they teach. They and their spouses can enjoy member benefits and may attend seminars during the year at no cost. If you are interested in learning more about becoming a moderator contact Julie Mitchell at jmitchell1@udayton.edu or call Special Programs and Continuing Education at 937-229-2605.

UDOLLI Privileges

Your UDOLLI nametag gives you access to:

- University Libraries
- The RecPlex (membership fee required)
- UD bookstore
- Invitations to University sponsored events

Call 937-229-2347 for more information.

MONDAY SEMINARS

Google Tools: Drive, Calendar, Docs, Sheets, Slides, Maps

This is hands on computer training in the basics of selected Google tools. This six-week-long seminar will cover the following topics:

1. Google Drive allows users to store files in the cloud (on Google's servers), synchronize files across devices and share files. In addition to a web interface, Google Drive offers apps with offline capabilities for Windows and macOS computers, and Android and iOS smartphones and tablets.
2. Google Calendar allows users to create and edit events. Reminders can be enabled for events, with options available for type and time. Event locations can also be added, and other users can be invited to events. Users can enable or disable the visibility of special calendars (including birthdays, where the app retrieves dates of births from Google contacts and displays birthday cards on a yearly basis) and holidays (a country-specific calendar that displays dates of special occasions).
3. Google Docs allows users to create and edit documents online while collaborating with other users in real time. Edits are tracked by user with a revision history presenting changes. An editor's position is highlighted with an editor-specific color and cursor, and a permissions system regulates what users can do.
4. Google Sheets is a spreadsheet program. The app allows users to create and edit files online while collaborating with other users in real time. Edits are tracked by user with a revision history presenting changes. An editor's position is highlighted with an editor-specific color and cursor, and a permissions system regulates what users can do.
5. Google Slides is a presentation program. Create, present and collaborate on online presentations in real time and from any device. Present slideshows with confidence with easy-to-use presenter view, speaker notes and live captions.
6. Google Maps is a web-mapping platform and consumer application offered by Google. It offers satellite imagery, aerial photography, street maps, 360° interactive panoramic views of streets, real-time traffic conditions and route planning for traveling by foot, car, bike, air and public transportation.

Equipment Needed: This seminar requires access to Google tools via the internet. Each participant must have a computer or tablet that is Wi-Fi enabled. Every participant should have or obtain a Google email account. Each participant must bring a laptop with Windows 10 or 11.

Advance Preparation: Signing up for the Google account ahead of time is important. Handouts will be distributed a week in advance of each seminar.

Seminar Limit: 10

6 Mondays, March 20-April 24

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Fran O'Connor is a happily retired businessperson and software systems engineer. Now she is enjoying UDOLLI, volunteering and being a grandmother. She loves new technology and likes to learn new things.*

Architecture in Dayton

You have probably driven, walked or biked past them many times, or seen pictures in books, magazines or postcards. They are the residential, commercial and institutional buildings, and public “spaces” that make up our environment ... the Architecture in Dayton. This seminar will pull back the façade of some of the most recognizable buildings of the 19th – 21st century in Dayton and beyond. We will discover the “story” behind the architect, and architecture ... the power and vision that made it happen ... and reflect on how the architecture is a product of its time. We will include 2-3 field trips.

6 Mondays, March 20-April 24

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Tom Thickett retired as president of the Dayton architectural firm of Levin Porter Architects Inc., a regional architectural firm with education, medical and cultural projects in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. A Dayton native, he received his Bachelor of Architecture degree from The Ohio State University, and served as president of the Dayton Chapter of the American Institute of Architects. He is a member of Holy Angels Parish. In addition to his volunteer involvement in UDOLLI, he currently volunteers as a historical interpreter for Dayton History at Carillon Park, Hawthorn Hill and the Patterson Homestead.

Learn More About Your Apple Watch NEW

This seminar will explore uses of the Apple Watch. Participants will share their favorite uses of the Apple Watch with classmates and will learn and find out about some other common uses of the watch. Apple Watch users only.

Seminar Limit: 10

2 Mondays, March 20 and 27

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Tim Riordan is a UD graduate two times, a local government retiree, a fan of Apple products, a decent free-throw shooter, survivor of a 3-month sabbatical to Russia and author of “Management by Unreasonable Objectives.”

Geography 101

Geography: What is it? What does it encompass? This seminar attempts to give you the basics. We will look at the National Geographic Society's Five Themes of Geography, maps, and map projections. We will look at aspects of physical geography, including landforms, water distribution, and climates and their distribution. We will also examine aspects of cultural geography, including demographics, family patterns, economic patterns and world religions.

6 Mondays, March 20-April 24

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Janet Hess spent way too many years teaching high school and junior high school social studies and English. She enjoys reading, especially science fiction and traveling. She is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International, an honorary society for women educators.

Hilariously Bad Horror Movies NEW

The films are so bad they're good, unintentionally funny, that is.

The films include:

- | | |
|---------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1. "From Hell It Came" | 4. "The Brain that Wouldn't Die" |
| 2. "Attack of the 50-Ft. Woman" | 5. "The Horror at Party Beach" |
| 3. "Plan 9 from Outer Space" | 6. "Robot Monster" |

There will be an introduction before and a discussion after each film.

6 Mondays, March 20-April 24

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Michael McFadden has a B.S. in education (1967) and an M.A. in history, both at the University of Dayton. He taught English and social studies at Chaminade High School in Dayton from 1967 to 1973 and was a trainer at Metropolitan Insurance from 1979 to 1984. As a film buff, he has seen thousands of movies. He considers himself a connoisseur of bad cinema. This will be his 11th seminar.

The Beatles Music You Haven't Heard NEW

All Beatles fans are familiar with their great music from their many albums and hit singles. Did you know that there is Beatles music out there that you probably haven't heard? In this seminar we'll listen to Beatles music from their days playing seedy bars in Hamburg, Germany, early radio broadcasts from the BBC network before they had received worldwide fame, live recordings of some of their songs while on tour, as well as alternate versions and outtakes from their recording sessions for several of their major albums, along with a few surprises.

3 Mondays, March 20-April 3

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Steve and Pat Crews are presenting this seminar as a follow-up to their History of The Beatles, Part 1 and Part 2 seminars. Steve has a background in law enforcement and security. Pat is both a graduate and retiree from the University of Dayton. Both are huge music fans and have attended hundreds of concerts, traveled to London and Liverpool visiting Beatles sites, and have an extensive collection of rock music albums, art and books.

The History of Presidential Campaigns NEW

The history of the United States could be written through the presidential campaigns. From Washington to Trump. The campaigns show how our republic evolved. The campaigns tell when our democracies have been under threat. Democracies die from within. Presidential campaigns can play a part in alerting the public to the danger. We will discuss those dangers.

6 Mondays, March 20-April 24

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Terry Martin is retired from Coca-Cola USA. He majored in history and is a book collector and seller of used books.

Hands-on Photography Workshop NEW

Participants will have the opportunity to use what they've learned from previous photography seminars, with a hands-on approach to developing their creative vision over the course of the seminar. Each week will feature a different location, with an emphasis on creativity, originality and communicating through photography. This four-week seminar will be on location for all sessions, with on-site photo critiques. Individual transportation to locations will be necessary. All four sessions will concentrate on sharing photography skills and techniques, exploring new photographic topics and hands-on learning. On-site photo critiques will be offered via laptop review.

Seminar Limit: 16

4 Mondays, March 20-April 10

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

John Sheehan has moderated seminars for UDOLLI since 2012, on topics from photography to nuclear weapons, aviation to the literature of European spies, the diversity of Texas music, The Patriot Act, the life and literature of Larry McMurtry and the rise of fascism in democratic societies. John retired from Wright-Patterson AFB in 2006 as the chief of ground safety for the Air Force Materiel Command, and is the author of "Gunsmoke: USAF Worldwide Gunnery Meet" published by Motorbooks International.

More Zentangle!

In this seminar you will learn more Zentangle patterns using tiles of different background colors, both square and round. Expand your creativity and focus while enjoying this relaxing meditative art form. Because this is an advanced seminar, you must have taken a beginning Zentangle seminar taught by a Certified Zentangle Teacher either through UDOLLI or another location.

Materials Fee: $15

Seminar Limit: 20

6 Mondays, March 20-April 24

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Peg Farmer has been a Certified Zentangle Teacher (CZT) since 2010 and enjoys sharing it with other UDOLLI participants. She has been involved with UDOLLI as a student, seminar liaison and moderator since 2004. Her work experience was in social service, as well as public and private administration. In addition to Zentangle, her interests include reading, experimenting with different art forms, playing the Native American flute and supporting the Dayton Dragons.

Global Warming Causes, Energy Effects and the Future NEW

This is a short course on the climate changes that are becoming apparent to everyone on the planet. We face increased temperatures, droughts, fires, more intense hurricanes, tornadoes, floods and decreasing sources of drinking water. These global changes will promote havoc on all areas of the globe. Those countries and states closer to the equator will experience more severe temperature conditions, which will force the migrations of people to cooler climates and sources of water. In the U.S., this phenomenon is already happening. Families from the southwest part of the U.S. are migrating north and east.

3 Mondays, April 3-17

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Phillip L. Hayden holds a Ph.D. from The Ohio State University and an M.S. from University of Cincinnati in environmental engineering. He attended graduate school on the GI Bill after serving as an instructor pilot in the U.S. Air Force. He has owned a Piper Arrow for many years and covered most of the United States. He was an early member of Leadership Dayton and various local and national water boards. He formed an environmental company, Hayden Environmental Group, which provides a wide range of services. He formed an engineering design-build company to supply water treatment, water recycling, renovation and wastewater systems to 20 countries in the world. Including Asia, South America, Eastern Europe, Middle East and Russia. He also gave lectures to a broad audience, including universities, research institutions and governments.

Historical and Beautiful Churches

During this seminar we will visit and tour six historical and beautiful churches in Dayton — one each week. Participants will learn about their history, architecture, interior statuary, ethnicity of original congregation and make-up of current congregation. Also, the parishes will discuss any historical personalities such as clergy or lay person, as well as current challenges.

6 Mondays, March 20-April 24

12:30-2:30 p.m., Various Local Churches

John Bowen is a retired Air Force officer with experiences in Asia, Europe and several states. He received his MBA from the University of Dayton. John is currently a volunteer docent at the National Museum of the United States Air Force.

Earth's Environment — Past, Present and Future

Examine current environmental issues, such as climate change and increasing rate of species extinctions, from the perspective of environmental and ecological changes over geologic and historic time. Consider how processes that brought about changes in Earth's ecology over geologic time compare to human-caused changes occurring in historic time.

6 Mondays, March 20-April 24

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Ricardo Garcia is a retired forester and wildlife biologist. His degrees are from the University of Michigan. He had a 35-year career with the U.S. Forest Service, including positions on national forests in Wisconsin, New Mexico, Puerto Rico, Ohio and the national headquarters in Washington, D.C. After retirement, he has done some consulting work for the Forest Service in Peru, and recently traveled to Canada's Northwest Territories, the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge in Alaska and Zambia. He is an avid birder and occasional fossil hunter.

Seven Profiles in Jazz NEW

Jazz is a personal music, involving extemporaneous creation of music. For instance, a performance of “Body and Soul” by Billie Holiday is quite different from one by John Coltrane. An understanding of the musician’s life is important for the understanding of their music.

In this seven-week seminar, we will present award-winning biographical documentaries of seven important jazz musicians. A brief introduction will precede each documentary. Musicians include:

- Bix Beiderbecke — “Ain’t None of Them Play Like Him Yet”
- Billie Holiday — “The Long Night of Lady Day”
- Ella Fitzgerald — “Just One of Those Things”
- Charles Mingus — “Triumph of the Underdog”
- Miles Davis — “Birth of the Cool”
- Bill Evans — “Time Remembered”
- John Coltrane — “Chasing Trane”

7 Mondays, March 20-May 1

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Bill Lavin, a retired radiologist, is a lifelong fan and part-time pianist of jazz. He has presented the History of Jazz series, Jazz Vocalists, Jazz Piano and Jazz on Film, as well as The Great American Songbook (with Fred Oliver), and Medical Myths and Misconceptions.

The “Writes” of Passage NEW

This seminar will examine the transition between two of the foundational periods of all of our lives: childhood and adolescence. We will read, discuss and analyze poetry, short stories, music lyrics and a novel revolving around our essential coming of age. The seminar will also include writing informally (no papers!) using inventions such as brainstorming and freewriting to react and respond to various prompts, including: first crush/love, dreams and aspirations, conflicts with parents, sibling interactions, pressure to conform to society’s expectations, self-discovery, sexual awakening, teen angst, etc. We will discuss how the rites of passage are universal in some aspects and highly individualistic in others, filtered through the lenses of gender, ethnicity, and social class. We will reflect on this tumultuous period with its profound effect on the rest of our lives.

6 Mondays, March 20-April 24

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Rick Strader is retired from teaching in the English Department at Wright State University, where he taught for over 30 years. He taught English 1100 (academic writing and reading), English 2100 (research writing and argumentation), English 204 (Great Books) and a few writing courses in the Honors Department, including a version of this seminar. He won several teaching awards at WSU and received consistently excellent student evaluations in his classes and online at ratemyprofessors.com. Rick received his Bachelor of Science in English education and his Master of Arts degrees in English from Wright State.

Famous American Paintings and What They Teach Us About Our History

This seminar will view and study famous American paintings from the Puritan times to present. Famous artists will include Gilbert Stuart, Thomas Moran, Homer Winslow, Norman Rockwell and many others and provide us with a lens upon American history. We will examine how the paintings not only reflected history, but life.

6 Mondays, March 20-April 24

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Greg Gibson is a former Presbyterian minister, attorney, professor and now a professional artist. He is a graduate of Gettysburg College, Princeton Theological Seminary and University of Dayton Law School.

Garden Primer

A blue starburst graphic with the word "ZOOM" in white capital letters inside.

Garden Primer will take participants through the various essentials to have a successful garden and landscape. It will include design, pruning, containers, soil health and compost, plants, invasive plants and problem solving as key points. This seminar is not designed for expert gardeners.

Seminar Limit: 25

6 Mondays, March 20-April 24

3-5 p.m., ZOOM

Yvonne Dunphe is a graduate of Purdue University, earning a Bachelor of Science degree from the School of Agriculture with a minor in marketing. She has had a diverse professional career and found her passion for gardening later in life. She earned her designation as a Master Gardener in 2001 from The Ohio State University, has taught classes on various gardening topics and sustainable landscaping, and has continued her education with focus in the area of permaculture and garden design. She has been with Five Rivers MetroParks since 2001, starting as a volunteer at Wegerzyn Gardens MetroPark. From volunteer to horticulture to education to conservation, Yvonne currently is a volunteer coordinator with Five Rivers MetroParks. In addition, Yvonne has been the Horticulture Consultant for Washington Township for the past 20 years. She and her husband, Jim, also own an orchid business, and travel to shows and give orchid presentations around the Midwest. Gardening, plants and sharing this passion keeps her moderating gardening seminars for UDOLLI.

TUESDAY SEMINARS

Exploring Our Contemporary Society

Developed by Jim Cash and Tim Hrstar, this seminar seeks to discuss and analyze current issues and events that touch our lives. Seminar participants are asked to bring a discussion topic to the seminar each week. Individuals will be asked to explain their issue and participants will vote on which ones to discuss. This is a discussion seminar and all views, including controversial opinions, are welcome. The purpose is to gain insight into different points of view. The moderator will keep the discussion focused and allow all participants to be heard.

Seminar Limit: 20

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

George Grampp has bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Dayton and a master's degree from Cleveland State University. He spent 43 years in the classroom as a high school social studies teacher for Dayton Public Schools and Lehman Catholic High School. Since his retirement in 2011, he has served as a trustee for Lehman Catholic, a volunteer for Miami Valley Goodwill Industries and has been actively involved in UDOLLI.

Big Band, Swing and Jazz NEW

Big Band, Swing and Jazz are very much interrelated. We will start in the early 1920s with the artists Paul Whiteman, Bessie Smith and Louis Armstrong. The seminar will continue with Bennie Goodman, Glenn Miller, Artie Shaw and Jelly Roll Morton and will include the great Tin Pan Alley songwriters including Cole Porter and the Gershwins. Over 50 artists will be covered, their songs will be played as well as some vintage film footage.

Singers will include Frank Sinatra, Nat King Cole, Billie Holiday, Ella Fitzgerald and Bing Crosby. This will be considered a music history seminar.

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Gary Ruff has degrees from Wright State University and University of Dayton. He is a retired high school teacher. Hobbies include music and adult softball. He previously taught over 50 seminars for UDOLLI. Gary has over 4,000 45 RPM records from mostly the 50s, 60s and 70s. Gary has taught History of Sci-Fi Films, Major Events of the 20th Century and many music seminars.

Working Toward Greater Understanding

Society is experiencing unprecedented challenges across a wide spectrum of life. Some topics that dominate many headlines are related to social justice and racism. We want to offer students a chance to explore how we got to the current state with a focus on Black history in America. How do we make sense of all that has changed and is changing? We will dialog about the impact on our own lives, past and present. Where might we go from here?

There are many resources available. We will share an extensive list of writings, videos and potential social action opportunities. Some of the material that will be presented comes from a virtual series production called “Roots of Racism” and from the work being done with artEquity and the Dayton Performing Arts Alliance.

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Suzanne Crippen began her career with Ohio Bell/AT&T in 1968 as a service representative and worked for them and their divested companies until her retirement from Avaya through 2001. She earned her B.A. in sociology from the University of Dayton. She has attended seminars through UDOLLI and OLLI at the University of South Carolina for over 20 years. She has presented in the Travel Adventure Series on Ireland, Poland, Germany, Napa Valley, U.S. Capitals and moderated a seminar on the history of the circus with her husband Patrick. Most recently they both moderated a six-week seminar on postwar Germany and visiting the historic Niagara Region. Suzanne has also served as a seminar liaison. She travels extensively, loves gardening, volunteering for the arts community and is an avid genealogist.

Carol Prewitt earned her BA in sociology from St. Leo University. Her professional background includes former licensed social worker; former grade school teacher, which includes teaching at the Rabat American School while living in Rabat, Morocco; aide to former Congressman Tony Hall; aide to former Ohio State Senator Fred Strahorn; congressional liaison representative for the United States Air Force Academy-Pentagon, Washington, D.C. and clerk to the Board of County Commissioners, Montgomery County, Ohio. Carol is a veteran of the United States Air Force. She is president of Prewitt Consulting LLC and consults in the areas of Civility Training, Etiquette and Business Protocol, providing training workshops for businesses, schools, churches, colleges and nonprofit organizations. She enjoys history, international travel and learning about different cultures. Carol has been chosen as a 2023 Woman of Influence Honoree by the Young Women’s Christian Association (YWCA) in Dayton.

Jesus in John’s Gospel, Part 2: The Book of Glory NEW

The Book of Glory in John’s Gospel narrates the Last Supper (Ch. 13-17), Jesus’ passion and death (Ch. 18-19) and His post resurrection apparitions (Ch. 21-21). The six seminar sessions coincide with the close weeks of lent and the opening of the Easter season.

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

9:30-11:30 a.m., ZOOM

William P. Roberts, Ph.D., is professor emeritus at the University of Dayton.

The Timeline of WWII as Told by Your Ohio Neighbors NEW

Follow how America's involvement in WWII occurred through the stories heard from talks and interviews with local Ohioans who lived through it. The details will be eye-opening, humorous, surprising and of course frightening. These stories will take you to places you have not been before, such as an engagement that cost almost four times more American lives than Utah Beach and was kept secret from the public until 1984. Also, an American soldier was declared dead and sent to the morgue; then he was declared undead four days later. Afterwards, he went on to save dozens of American soldiers' lives.

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Ken Serey is just a regular guy, with no real letters behind his name. In his young years of work life, he climbed his way up the ranks in retail and made store manager with Federated Department Stores. Ken had his own business, partnering with his brother. He is also involved with extremely rewarding work with the visually impaired and legally blind, enabling these individuals to read, write and enjoy the normalcy of life.*

“Girl” Songs NEW

Remember all the songs about girls as we were growing up? Who can forget “Peggy Sue”? Or “Runaround Sue”? How about “C.C. Rider”? Or “Sweet Caroline”? These are but a few of over 100 songs with female names in the title that we will remember during this seminar.

Perhaps a female at UDOLLI will do a seminar about “boy” songs?

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

This is Sam Kurtz's 17th seminar for UDOLLI. He has a music collection of all different types of music and has certainly attended between 100 and 200 concerts. He hopes you will enjoy this trip down memory lane.

Pre-Code Hollywood: Scandal, Lasciviousness, Corruption and Moral Depravity NEW

Pre-Code Hollywood was the brief period in the American film industry between the widespread adoption of sound in pictures in 1929 and the enforcement of the Motion Picture Production Code censorship guidelines -- popularly known as the “Hays Code” -- in mid-1934. Although the Code was adopted in 1930, oversight was poor and not rigorously enforced until late 1934.

Before that date, movie content was restricted more by local laws rather than by strict adherence to the Code and often ignored by Hollywood filmmakers. As a result, many films by late 1929 and into the early 1930s featured implied sexual relationships between races, alcohol and drug abuse, promiscuity, marital infidelity, abortion, criminality, and gay and lesbian homosexuality. Women ruled most of these movies and shamelessly flaunted the social and moral conventions of the day. Nonetheless, Depression-weary folks loved these films as an escape from reality and kept theaters filled.

Pre-Code films featured some of Hollywood's biggest stars including Joan Crawford, Bette Davis, Barbara Stanwyck, Joan Blondell, Jean Harlow, Loretta Young, and Greta Garbo. Among male stars could be found Clark Gable, Humphrey Bogart, Edward G. Robinson and a very young John Wayne. And then there was little Shirley Temple in her Pre-Code screen work that, by today's standards, would be both morally questionable and illegal.

Join this seminar to learn about this fascinating period in American cinema through viewing: “The Divorcee” (1930); “Millie” (1931); “Back Street” (1932); “Shopworn” (1932); “Of Human Bondage” (1934); and “The Road to Ruin” (1934). We will also watch a few Shirley Temple Baby Burlesque short films plus a Pre-Code cartoon. These movies will be set within the social and political period and will include a discussion of where the Roman Catholic Church stood during and after this brief transitional cinematic period.

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Dr. Ed Garten is a UDOLLI Distinguished Moderator and a University of Dayton emeritus dean and professor. A film buff for many years, Ed is also an ordained United Methodist clergyperson who has spent many years of his life preaching against sin and depravity. To his great consternation and sadness he has found few listeners, but has not yet given up.

Judaism 101

This seminar will function as an introduction to the basic concepts and workings of Judaism including calendar, life-cycle and history.

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Rabbi Karen Bodney-Halas graduated from Northwestern University with a degree in Comparative Literary Studies, with her emphasis in Hebrew Literature and Culture, and earned a master’s degree in Hebrew Letters from Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion (HUC-JIR) in 2002. She has worked at Temple Israel in Dayton since 2003, earning her rabbinic ordination from HUC-JIR in 2007. Rabbi Bodney-Halas has served as the senior rabbi of Temple Israel in Dayton since 2016.

Archaeology 101: Adventures Into Our Human Past

Discover long-lost cities, explore towering pyramids and peer into ancient tombs. Experience an archaeological adventure designed to answer core questions from the discipline. How do archaeologists know where to search? What is the proper way to excavate? How are sites dated? What information do artifacts reveal? We’ll meet charismatic people, learn the tools of the trade and wrestle with the ethics of studying past cultures. Our travels take us to exotic places like ancient Mesoamerica, imperial China and the Nile Valley. Finally, we’ll arrive back in Ohio to uncover our own regions’ fascinating history.

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

John Meixner has been a professional instructor throughout his career. He began by conducting large-scale seminars throughout the country, then transitioned to working directly with educational institutions in Ohio. He spends most of his free time researching ancient history and recently returned to college to pursue his passion: archaeology, specializing in Mediterranean civilizations.

Two Modern British Novels NEW

Nobel Prize winner William Golding published “Lord of the Flies” in 1954. This dystopian scenario puts human nature under a microscope and examines what might happen to a group of boys living without normal societal constraints. Half a century later, Ian McEwan published “Saturday” — about a day in the life of a London neurosurgeon who is dealing with the critical demands of his profession along with family complications when Britain is about to enter the Iraq War. We will read and discuss these two great novels as we consider social and historical issues, and England’s place in the world during these two time periods.

Books are available at libraries, book stores, Amazon.com, and the moderator will have extras as well.

First Session Preparation: Read the first four chapters of “Lord of the Flies.”

Seminar Limit: 32

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Jim Brooks earned his bachelor’s degree in English education from Ohio University and his master’s in English from the University of Dayton. He taught at Chaminade Julianne High School for 37 years and at Miami University for 12 years.

Journalism: Most Influential Stories NEW

ZOOM

This seminar will explore the news and feature stories that created change and prompted debate.

There will be a suggested reading from the moderator prior to the first session.

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

12:30-2:30 p.m., ZOOM

Peg O’Connor began her career as a journalist. Her interest in writing led to a career as a media specialist, college professor and administrator.

Artisan Bread Baking

This seminar will teach home bakers how to make European-style artisan hearth breads with crisp, caramelized crusts and a moist chewy crumb. Content will include a brief discussion of the role of bread making in human history; the essentials of bread leaven (including sourdough) flour types and the other milled grains used in bread making. Most importantly, the seminar will cover the tools, art and techniques necessary to produce the types of bread found in the artisan bakeries of Europe and, increasingly, in the U.S.

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Dr. Bill Schuerman retired from UD in 2013 after 28 years as a VP, dean and faculty member. He has served as a moderator for UDOLLI seminars for over 25 years. He has been a bread baker for 30 years focusing on developing the knowledge and skills necessary to bake the type of breads he found when first traveling in Europe. His quest to become an artisan baker has included building a brick, wood-fired bread oven in his backyard.

Beginning Guitar

Brand new to guitar? Great! No need to read music, we will begin with some simple chords to sing along to. Over six weeks the seminar will touch on as much information as you will need to ground you on your continuing path.

Necessary Equipment: Acoustic guitar and electronic tuner.

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Marsha O'Connor has played guitar for over 40 years, as well as a variety of other stringed instruments.*

Weather for the Layman

We will look at many aspects of weather to better understand meteorological phenomena such as severe weather — tornadoes, hail, lightning, winter storms and hurricanes; air masses and frontal systems; types of clouds and their significance; different precipitation forms, atmospheric pressure; temperature and dew point; aviation weather and other topics. We will investigate how these phenomena affect each of us and how to better prepare for significant weather events. We will complete hands-on projects such as plotting and analyzing weather maps, weather forecasting and taking weather observations.

3 Tuesdays, March 21-April 4

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Gary Abernathy has a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from the University of Missouri and a master's degree in geophysics from Wright State University. He is retired from the US Air Force and worked for 10 years in the weather career field in the Air Force. He taught at the University of Michigan in Air Force ROTC and various math and science courses for Sinclair Community College and Park College.*

Yesterday's Tomorrows: The First Half of Science Fiction NEW

Join us for a look at the future as it used to be! We'll start with the publication of "Frankenstein" in 1818, look at "Space Opera" in the 1930s and "Golden Age" of the 1940s, then finish with "New Wave" in 1960. Along the way we'll examine the most famous authors and their works (Heinlein, Clarke, Asimov, Bradbury and many others), look at the best movie adaptations, reminisce about science fiction on radio and early TV, examine the rise of pulp magazines and SF comic books, and marvel at the works of the greatest science fiction illustrators.

6 Tuesdays, March 21-April 25

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Fred Oliver is a retired WPAFB engineer and longtime science fiction fan. He's been a UDOLLI student since 2011 and a moderator since 2014, with over 20 seminars to his credit. Previous seminars got good reviews.*

WEDNESDAY SEMINARS

An All Too Brief but Intriguing History of Jerusalem NEW

There is a 4000-year-old city that has been besieged, attacked, captured and re-captured numerous times by numerous assailants. It has been completely (Yes! Completely!) destroyed twice — to the extent that one would not know a city was ever there. It has been called a Den of Superstition and a House of God — a city sacred to three religions, forever contentious. To many, it is both temporal and celestial, occupying for most of its life an area of barely over 0.5 sq. mile. Welcome to Jerusalem, today a thriving metropolis ... at peace? Come join us, bring your devotion, questions and input.

6 Wednesdays, March 22-April 26

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Bill Lawless claims that if one hangs around UD long enough a degree or degrees of education might rub off ... some might even stick. He has been here since ... well his first year was the year UD beat Seton Hall.

Julia's Kitchen Garden at Patterson Homestead

The journey to rediscover the kitchen garden continues. The warming of spring will enable working in the garden to prepare for planting. The garden design and selection of plants and seeds from the winter session will be used to plant the garden. Once planted, the garden will grow until the 2023 summer program when harvesting and cooking on an open hearth occurs at Carillon Park Dinner Dwellings.

All sessions held at the Patterson Homestead, 1815 Brown Street. Parking is free.

Seminar Limit: 25

7 Wednesdays, March 22-May 3

9:30-11:30 a.m., Patterson Homestead

Mike Schumacher served as a Greene County Master Gardner, creating historic heirloom gardens at the Mercer Smith House in Fairborn and at the Patterson Homestead. He is an Ohio Certified volunteer naturalist and a member of Dayton History at Carillon Park.

The Supremes: Judicial Hits or Flops — The Next Chapter

In this lively, in depth, interactive seminar, Larry will discuss hot-button issues recently decided and to be decided by the Supreme Court. The overall theme of the seminar is “The Culture Wars continue — What is the Roberts Court doing about them?” The overall theme of the seminar is “Dead on arrival: Separation of church and state? LGBTQ+ rights? Voting Rights Act protections? Gun control regulations? Supreme Court legitimacy? Affirmative action?” While Larry acknowledges a liberal bias, he wants to present all sides of the issues — and with input from seminar attendees — this can happen. Whether you are a graduate of prior Supreme seminars or you are a newbie, this seminar is for you!

6 Wednesdays, March 22-April 26

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Larry Burick is a retired attorney and proud lifelong Daytonian. He was a practicing Dayton attorney during his entire legal career. Now that he is in retirement mode, Larry is thrilled that he finally can focus on his life-long passion — constitutional law. Larry has moderated several UDOLLI seminars in recent years. You always know where he stands, but he always welcomes opposing views.

French Language and Culture

In this seminar we will focus on French language and culture. The four facets of language learning include listening, speaking, reading and writing, and there will be opportunities to practice all of these. Additionally, there will be presentations and discussion of France and other francophone (French-speaking) countries.

6 Wednesdays, March 22-April 26

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Donna Griffith has a BA in French from UD and an M.S. in Education from UD. She has 25 years' experience teaching at high school and university levels.

Coping With Life Skills and Tapping the Unconscious

 ZOOM

This instructive and interactive “Coping with Life” seminar will focus on coping and healing in a changing world. Practical coping skills found to be most helpful in research will be presented and discussed with ways to build them into your life. An understanding of the unconscious and ways to tap the unconscious including understanding dreams will be presented along with Jung’s concept of “active imagination.” The seminar will utilize some poetry as metaphors for healing.

Seminar Limit: 30

6 Wednesdays, March 22-April 26

9:30-11:30 a.m., ZOOM

Roger Fortman has been a consultant, executive coach, teacher and licensed clinical counselor for over 35 years. He has worked with UDOLLI for many years as a consultant and moderator. He has been an executive coach and national presenter for the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization in Washington, D.C. and a leadership instructor at the University of Dayton’s Center for Leadership.

Biking the Dayton Regions’ World-Class System of Bike Trails

This is an active participation, recreational biking seminar and is intended to introduce participants to the excellent system of biking trails available to the residents of our region.

After an initial introduction session, the moderators and participants will meet each week to explore a different section of the regions 360 system of connected, off-road bike trails.

The weekly rides will be approximately 16-20 miles round trip and will include a lunch stop.

We will meet weekly at 11:00 a.m. at a trail access point, bike for 45 minutes to an hour, enjoy a stop at a restaurant or share a picnic lunch and return to the starting point.

PLEASE NOTE: Due to normal Dayton weather conditions, this seminar will meet later than the regularly scheduled dates for the Spring program and extend through May. A brief introductory classroom meeting will be held on April 26. Weather permitting, biking will begin the following Wednesday and continue for the following 4 weeks.

Required Equipment: A hybrid, road or ebike in good working order, biking helmet and ability to transport bike to weekly starting points. Biking shorts highly recommended.

Participants should have an adequate level of fitness and capable of riding a bike for 2 hours at a pace of approximately 9-10 mph.

Seminar Limit: 16

5 Wednesdays, April 26-May 24

11a.m.-1 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place and Various Bike Trails around Dayton

Barbara Denison retired from teaching in the Raj Soin College of Business at Wright State University. She is on the UDOLLI Board of Advisors having served as president and currently co-chair of the Curriculum Committee. Barbara has always been interested in the experiences of women in leadership and looks forward to the First Ladies.

John Eilerman retired from Delphi in 2008. He has been active in UDOLLI since 2014 and currently serves on the Board of Advisors. John has had a lifelong interest in history, especially American history. John recently moderated the four-semester seminar on Presidents of The United States.

Talking About Dying Won't Kill You

Many people are faced with health decisions for themselves or family when a serious medical diagnosis has been made or an unexpected tragic accident has occurred. During this very stressful time, it is easy to feel overwhelmed, confused, and not in control. However, being aware of your end-of-life wishes and communicate them to your family is difficult but so important. Leaving a legacy of love for your family is a positive and comforting gift. A good death is something we all hope to have. Death is always sad, but it doesn't have to be tragic.

A seasoned team of presenters'... a social worker/grief counselor, an attorney, a funeral director and a physician, all specializing in end-of-life care, will guide you through healthcare documents, end-of-life healthcare choices, organ donation and funeral planning.

6 Wednesdays, March 22-April 26

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Laureene Bollinger is retired from nearly 42 years of bedside nursing. The majority of her experience focused on Medical Surgical Critical Care but her last 10 years she was a Hospice/Palliative Care bedside nurse.

Laureene joined UDOLLI in 2012 and was elected to the UDOLLI Board of Advisors in June 2014. Since then she has been active on various committees particularly on the Volunteer Committee, secretary, two terms as vice president and is presently serving as president.

She received the Distinguished Moderator Award for her six-week seminar on advanced healthcare planning, Talking about Dying Won't Kill You and her two-hour seminar Decide to be Heard.

Biblical Women: Victors, Victims, Virgins and Villains

The tales of women in the Hebrew Scriptures (Old Testament) are varied and memorable. While these characters are portrayed in a patriarchal text, their stories reflect agency and power. We will explore many characters you know and a few that you have never heard of through the lens of text and art.

6 Wednesdays, March 22-April 26

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Rabbi Judy Chessin has been the rabbi of Temple Beth Or in Dayton, Ohio for 38 years. She received rabbinic ordination in 1984 and her Doctor of Divinity in 2009.

Along with her synagogue duties, Rabbi Chessin speaks extensively in Dayton-Cincinnati regional universities, churches, mosques, schools and social organizations on topics of Jewish interest. She teaches regularly in local high schools and has loved her UDOLLI experiences. She also initiated and administers Dayton's Introduction to Judaism class, an adult education offering open to the entire Dayton community. She has led an ongoing Biblical study group exploring the Hebrew and English meaning of the text verse by verse. After 28 years they finished the Hebrew Scriptures and are now exploring Apocryphal Literature.

Crime Scene Investigations: Presentation, Preservation, Processing, and Prosecution

This seminar will examine the many facets of a “crime scene” the place or places where a crime has been committed, or believed to have been committed. The seminar will explain the stages of crime scene management from initial response of law enforcement to completion of processing and evidence collection. The seminar will feature presentations highlighting the importance of crime scenes in successfully solving “cold case” investigations, as well as more recent investigations. The seminar will also feature presentations from law enforcement, crime laboratory and medical professionals.

Caution: This seminar will include information and photographs, both actual and clinical, which are graphic in nature. While this is not the focus of the seminar it is an important element of understanding the scientific and investigative nexus to the crime scene.

6 Wednesdays, March 22-April 26

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Doyle Burke has investigated deaths for more than 45 years, involving more than thousands of cases. First as a Homicide Detective with the Dayton Police Department, and next as the Chief Investigator for the Warren County Coroner's Office. In this seminar Doyle will share how investigators look at scenes, what they are looking for, and how they evaluate what they see. He discusses the importance of forensic science while not overlooking the irreplaceable value of instinct. Doyle has received numerous awards throughout his career including being named as one of the “Top 100 Cops” in the nation in 2001. Doyle has appeared in numerous television shows including Dateline, The New Detectives, Crime Stories with Nancy Grace, Killer Couples, Two Sides, Storm of Suspicion and Sins of the City. Doyle is also the award winning author of “Death as a Living,” voted one of Newsweek's 21 favorite books of 2021. Doyle is currently serving part time as an investigator with the Dayton Police Department's Cold Case Unit.

Beginner Pickleball NEW

Pickleball is the new cool sport. Think of it as ping pong meets badminton meets tennis, and since it's on a smaller court anyone can play! Join us for a ton of fun and a little bit of friendly competition.

Please bring a pickleball paddle. If you do not have one, a few extras will be available to use during the lesson.

6 Wednesdays, March 22-April 26

12:30-1:30 p.m., Offsite

This seminar will be moderated by two Loris, a Stephanie and a Jack. The four of them started playing three years ago and fell in love with the game. It has changed their lives. They can now run faster, jump higher and move like lightening (at least in their minds).

The Tudors Revealed

The Tudors have been portrayed as monarchs who presided over a free, prosperous and happy people. In fact, Henry VIII spent excessively on unnecessary wars resulting in heavy taxes that kept the government barely solvent during the entire 118 year Tudor Dynasty. Homelessness and poverty grew until during the reign of Elizabeth I — the standard of living for the common people was lower than at any time during the past 250 years. The rule of law was bypassed as Tudor Monarchs ordered hundreds of executions without any evidence of guilt. Most people were neither free, prosperous nor happy during the Tudor century.

6 Wednesdays, March 22-April 26

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Before retirement, Mark Cannon was a research scientist at Wright-Patterson AFB but has always had a great interest in history. He has moderated UDOLLI seminars on WWI, WWII, the Civil War, Napoleon, A Traveler's History of England and The Plantagenet Dynasty of England.

A Culinary Trip Around the World NEW

A hands-on seminar to prepare and taste foods from four continents. The final lab will focus on a sample of regional foods of the USA. The 2nd-6th sessions will be held on the 5th floor of Fitz Hall in the Dietetics Foods Lab. The 1st session will be held at Curran Place to orient participants to Fitz Hall and review the recipes for the 2nd session. There will be a $25 lab fee to cover the cost of food and materials. It is suggested that participants bring an apron to protect their clothing.

Food and Materials Fee: $25

Seminar Limit: 15

6 Wednesdays, March 22-April 26

Maureen Willits is past president of a retired Home Economists and Dietitians organization. She moderated the spring 2022 UDOLLI Healthy Meals seminar.*

Pat Dolan has previously moderated three seminars for UDOLLI, most recently the Spring 2022 Healthy Meals seminar. She retired from her profession as a registered dietitian at Kettering Hospital before finishing her career at UD as the director of the Dietetic Program. In that capacity, she emphasized the importance of good food and family meals as the pathway to a healthy life. Pat currently serves as VP of the Retired Home Economics and Dietitians organization.*

Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" NEW

We will discuss act-by-act Shakespeare's third great comedy (after "As You Like It" and "Much Ado About Nothing") "Twelfth Night," using the elements of comedy to examine the play.

Required Text: An edition of the play.

4 Wednesdays, March 22, 29, April 26, May 3

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Gary Mitchner is professor emeritus of English, former poet laureate at Sinclair and currently, poet laureate of UDOLLI.

Women Rowing North: Navigating Life's Currents and Flourishing as We Age NEW

Today's 21st century women who are growing older will contend with more ageism, misogyny and loss. Despite their multiple life challenges, most will report being happier and filled with gratitude for the many gifts in their lives. Regardless of their emotional, physical and spiritual struggles, today's older women report being more empathic, authentic and wise. Seminar participants will discuss how developmental and cultural issues are actually helping women "keep their wits about them" as they create meaningful, joyful and transcendent lives.

Required Text: "Women Rowing North: Navigating Life's Currents and Flourishing as We Age" by Mary Pipher, Ph.D.

6 Wednesdays, March 22-April 26

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Sharon Otto Trekell, Ph.D., has a doctorate in psychology. She worked for three decades as a marriage and family therapist and has been offering spiritual direction to laity and religious personnel for over 36 years.

Greatest Preachers in American History NEW

We will examine some of the greatest preachers in American history as a lens through which we may better understand the history of American Christianity. Our study will explore the ways in which these preachers both impacted and reflected their contemporary religious times, the continued tension between enlightenment and evangelism. We will learn about what made these preachers great in their time and what makes them timely for our times. We will read and hear sermons from Jonathan Edwards and Anne Hutchinson all the way through Dwight Moody and Ralph Waldo Emerson to Fulton Sheen, Billy Graham and Martin Luther King. In the end we will make our own list of great preachers and hopefully appreciate the impact preachers have had upon our history.

6 Wednesdays, March 22-April 26

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Greg Gibson is a former Presbyterian minister, attorney, professor and now a professional artist. He is a graduate of Gettysburg College, Princeton Theological Seminary and University of Dayton Law School.

THURSDAY SEMINARS

Connections — 1/3rd Technology, 1/3rd History, 1/3rd Storytelling NEW

During this seminar we will view the video series “Connections.” “Connections” is presented by James Burke, a British broadcaster, science historian, author, television producer and storyteller. He was the BBC TV anchor and chief reporter for the Apollo missions. “Connections” originally aired on the BBC in 1978 and later on PBS. Much like a detective story, each episode follows the development of a branch of technology from the simplest inventions to where we are today – well at least in 1978. One-third history, one-third technology and one-third storytelling.

5 Thursdays, March 23-April 20

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

John Eilerman is a retired GM/Delphi engineer. John has been active in UDOLLI since 2014 and currently serves on the Board of Advisors. He has a lifelong interest in history and technology, and greatly enjoys clever storytellers. This seminar combines all of those interests into an intriguing bundle.

John recently completed his first time moderating with the four-semester series on Presidents of The United States.

Creation through Evolution — Science Meets Faith

Evolution illuminates that creation in our universe involves ongoing change and complexification through cycles of “birth, life and death.” The seminar will promote basic understanding of scientific method, cosmic, planetary, biological and human evolution, and discuss challenges for humanity. Though mainly scientific, the seminar will, at times, discuss world views and religious faith in line with Pope John Paul II’s statement “Truth does not contradict truth.” The professor will provide chapters of preparatory material for each topic.

Please have a computer and email to read materials.

Preparation for First Session: Read emailed introductory materials.

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Rev. William Stang M.D., taught 40+ years as a professor of biology at St. Joseph’s College, Indiana. He taught anatomy, human and cellular physiology, histology and microbiology/immunology. He also was dean and teacher in the College’s liberal art core program, where courses were team-taught using readings, lectures and small group discussion. Fr. Stang’s degrees include: M.A. Microbiology, Indiana State University; M.Div. Catholic Theological Union and M.D. Indiana University School of Medicine. He is a retired Chaplain (COL) United States Army.

Intermediate iPhone

This hands-on seminar is for people who have taken the Beginning Apple iPhone seminar or have an intermediate comfort level with the iPhone and would like to learn more of its capabilities. Emphasis of this seminar will be on a deeper understanding of Settings and iCloud plus the built-in apps like photos, contacts, calendar, files, reminders, maps, iTunes, music, Safari and Siri. Participants must bring an iPhone 8 or later to each seminar with the latest operating system (IOS). Students must have an email address and fill out a pre-seminar questionnaire.

Seminar Limit: 20

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

John Bramhall is retired from the Ohio Air National Guard, active in the Dayton area ballroom dance community, former computer programmer, longtime iPhone, iPad and Mac computer user.

Reconstruction: America After the Civil War NEW

The end of the American Civil War was only the beginning of the struggle to define what freedom meant for the former slaves, and the larger question of the relationship of the states to the federal government and how that had changed. Out of bitter struggles between the executive and legislative branches, and between those who worked for change in the South and those who resisted it, came a legacy that affected the United States for decades, if not still today.

Optional Reading: "A Fool's Errand: By One of the Fools," by Albion W. Tourgee, $8.95 in paperback, from Amazon.com.

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

John Weaver is a retired history professor from Sinclair College who also taught at Wright State and the University of Dayton during his 30+ year career. His special interest is American political history of the mid and late 19th century, and he has published articles on Know Nothings in the early Republican party, the life and career of Senator John Sherman of Ohio, and the struggle over the currency (gold, silver or greenbacks?) after the Civil War. He earned an M.A. from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and a Ph.D. from The Ohio State University. This is a follow-up to his UDOLLI seminar on the years leading up to the Civil War.

Knowing Your Worth: To Be and Become Your Best Self

The purpose of this seminar is to help individuals be and become their best by unlocking their inner potential for continual growth. Having practices to know and understand ourselves and others allows us to thrive and grow while experiencing uncertainty.

Using the iiChange® Transformation Model, you will:

- Discover the value of your own self-worth and the mutual worth of others
- Become more aware of how you think about yourself and others
- Set your mindset to be open for growth rather than be fixed and limiting
- Recognize how you behave is your choice
- Learn behaviors that will increase communication, collaboration, appreciation of diverse ideas, solve problems creatively and manage change

9:30-11:30 a.m., ZOOM

Kathy Hollingsworth is president of Innovative InterChange® Inc., an independent consulting and facilitation company dedicated to providing clients with workshops and coaching for effective collaboration and rapid learning. Prior to forming Innovative InterChange® Inc. in 2003, Kathy spent 29 years in banking, leaving National City Bank as president of the Dayton region. Kathy has a bachelor's degree from Wittenberg University and an M.B.A. from Case Western University.

Carolyn Reveal, R.N., B.S.N., C.D., has been an R.N. for over 40 years and practices as a cancer doula. Carolyn has been a caregiver for numerous people during their cancer journey and most recently her husband who died of ALS. She acts as a patient liaison and advocate for the elderly and helps individuals navigate life changes. Carolyn has studied holistic nursing, self-awareness, mindfulness, meditation and is a student of the Enneagram.

Carolyn is an active collaborator at The Well Women's Center and is a volunteer for the Dayton Performing Arts Alliance and Muse Machine.

Anna Magnusson was adopted from Seoul, Korea and grew up in Iowa. She went to high school in Des Moines and earned her undergraduate degree at the University of Iowa. Following her days at the University of Iowa, she worked for Opera Carolina, Dayton Contemporary Dance Company, and Kids Voting. She also worked in the Advancement Department and earned her master's degree in public administration at Wright State University. She lived in England for over three years before returning to her home state in 2018. Her most recent position is with Able Up Iowa serving as their executive director.

Frank Hollingsworth is a partner for Innovative InterChange, Inc. The value of authentic, productive and sustainable interactions with people and organizations at all levels, has always proven true, whether it be during his corporate career at NCR Corp. and Reynolds and Reynolds, volunteering within the community, engaging with family and friends, or learning something new with other life-learners. He is a huge admirer of the Wright Brothers, who solved problems by observing, testing, failing and making adjustments before trying again. A second-generation South Floridian, Frank has been proud to call Dayton home for nearly 40 years but doubts he can ever be a snowbird. There's way too much to do in Dayton.

Eight Perfect Murders

This seminar is based on the mystery novel "Eight Perfect Murders" by Peter Swanson. The main character, a bookstore owner, posts a list on his blog of what he considers perfect (fictional) murders. They are "The Red House Mystery" (A.A. Milne), "Malice Aforethought" (Anthony Berkeley Cox), "The ABC Murders" (Agatha Christie), "Double Indemnity" (James M. Cain), "Strangers on a Train" (Patricia Highsmith), "The Drowner" (John D. MacDonald), "Death Trap" (Ira Levin) and "The Secret History" (Donna Tartt). We will watch four movies: "The ABC Murders," "Double Indemnity," "Strangers on a Train" and "Death Trap."

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Mary Ann Gasior has a Ph.D. in English literature, taught at Wright State and other universities, was a member of the UDOLLI Board of Advisors for six years and has been a moderator for almost 10 years. She has previously offered seminars on Agatha Christie, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Jane Austen, the Dayton Literary Peace Prize winners and science fiction. She is a lifelong mystery lover but has also branched out to teach Biographical Movies About Famous Artists (twice).

Lifties and the Aviation Frontier

Man had always dreamed to fly and in the early 1900s "Lifties" made it possible. Experiments and innovation followed and World War I accelerated the process. Many start-up aircraft manufacturers began and often failed. The movement of passengers by air soon resulted and many airline companies were created. The government quickly got involved with air mail, air traffic control, airports and regulation of pilots and the industry. As World War II approached, aviation ended the frontier phase and became a critical part of the war effort and postwar development.

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Paul Cooper is a retired Air Force Brigadier General and pilot with 35 years of service. He has combat experience in Vietnam, Desert Storm and Bosnia, and has commanded three different air bases. He is a graduate of both the Industrial College of the Armed Forces and Air War College and has a master's degree in aviation history. He is past president of UDOLLI and serves on the Board of Trustees at the Foundation of the National Museum of the Air Force.

Nations of the World Part II NEW

Back by popular demand — Nations of the World. Here is your snapshot of economic, social/cultural, and political conditions in twelve nations around the world. This term we will look at trading partners of the United States: some big, some small, some well-known, some lesser known. Here is your opportunity to learn more about your world.

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Tim Riordan thinks it is interesting and important to learn more about the nations of the world, especially in our globalized world. He hopes that UDOLLI members will share that passion in both presenting and listening to relevant information about these 12 nations of the world.

Janet Hess is a former high school and junior high school social studies teacher. She is appreciative of anything that adds to our understanding of the world and other cultures.

Reliving Radio's Golden Age NEW

From the 1930s to the 1950s, Americans participated in something amazing: the theater of the mind. Networks across the nation hosted shows like "Dragnet," "Suspense" and "Gunsmoke." But it was the listener who contributed the essential element of imagination. Gather around the radio once again to recall the days of yesteryear. Experience three shows per week including drama, science fiction, western, detective and comedy — all within your own home. Then, we'll join together in the classroom, share our reactions and learn more about this lost artform. Expect more than just listening ... we'll be reliving radio's golden age!

Participants will need an internet-connected device to listen to media files online. Students need to listen to three shows before the first seminar. All will be explained in an initial email.

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

John Meixner has been a professional instructor throughout his career. He began by conducting large-scale seminars throughout the country then transitioned to working directly with educational institutions in Ohio. At eight years old, he became hooked on "Old Time Radio" after listening to Lou Costello try to determine who was on first.

24 Great American Short Stories, 1917-2012 NEW

ZOOM

Twenty-four honored authors give us stories chosen from thousands confronting issues of American life since 1917 — tales sometimes hopeful, sometimes painful, always challenging. What do writers like Ferber, Hemingway, Lardner, Fitzgerald, Cheever, Olsen, Baldwin, Roth, O'Connor, Updike and Munro illuminate that may confirm or alter our thinking?

Required Text: "100 Years of the Best American Short Stories," ed. by Moore and Pitlor, pub. By Houghton Mifflin Harcourt, from $3 to $25, online.

Preparation for First Session: Four stories will be discussed at the first meeting:
“The Gay Old Dog,” “My Old Man,” “Haircut” and “Babylon Revisited.”

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

12:30-2:30 p.m., ZOOM

Passport to Retirement

This is an in-depth, comprehensive approach that offers the most valuable educational experience to help you prepare for the challenges of retirement in the current economic environment. It will give you a greater perspective about retirement planning. This course provides a broader context for setting realistic goals and making sound financial decisions. Participants will receive a 135-page full color workbook that follows the course. This valuable resource helps students apply what they learn with their personal financial situations.

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Gary Hollander, CFP, is a practicing financial professional with over 47 years of experience. He conducts financial educational workshops to help people avoid common roadblocks to financial success in retirement. He has been recently awarded “Five Star Best in Client Satisfaction Wealth Manager” by Cincinnati Magazine and is an accredited member with the Cincinnati Better Business Bureau with an A+ rating since 1991.

He has been president of Hollander & Associates LLC since 1976.

Americans: Why We Are the Way We Are

This seminar examines why there never has been one America, but several. We are a nation settled by many different people from distinct regions who brought with them unique religious, political and ethnographic characteristics. This complex mix — along with the indigenous peoples who have been here for thousands of years and African slaves we imported — all have created a permanent imprint on why we are the way we are.

We’ve had a social system that, for two centuries, has remained stubbornly democratic in its politics, capitalist in its economy, libertarian in its laws, individualistic in its society and pluralistic in its culture. But what is America, really — a melting pot, a multicultural salad bowl or a cultural mosaic?

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Tim Hrastar has been actively involved in UDOLLI since 2005, is currently a consultant to the Board of Advisors and has moderated 39 seminars over the years in American history, as well as discussion groups covering economic, social and cultural issues. Tim was self-employed for almost 40 years as an audio-visual writer-producer-director of corporate programs and conferences; as well as a communication and business development consultant, coach and facilitator for professional service firms — focusing on the legal profession. He earned B.A. and M.A. degrees in communications from the University of Dayton.

The Guitar in Our Lives

Guitar music permeates every musical genre — classical, jazz, folk, country, rock. This seminar will be a comprehensive study of all kinds and styles of guitars, players and genres. We'll examine the evolution of guitars from Stradivarius (yes, Stradivari built guitars!) to today's rock 'n roll electric "shredders." We'll delve into the different playing styles from Baroque to Rock. We'll examine the lives of the great players of each genre, and view their most memorable performances via YouTube videos. There will be plenty of live demonstrations too!

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Richard Prigozen has taught and performed guitar in the Dayton area for over 50 years. He has moderated several previous seminars on Classical Guitar, the Guitar in Spain and the Guitar in South America. He has also given a number of recitals in conjunction with his seminar for the entire UDOLLI community.

Travel Escapades NEW

Do you like to travel but have run out of ideas? Well, this seminar may introduce you to six different travel destinations both domestic and foreign that you may want to consider. These trips have been planned, taken and presented by UDOLLI students. A sample of the trips would be a road trip through New England and Canada or a tour of the Kentucky Bourbon Trail.

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

3-5 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Chuck Brecht is a graduate of Capital University with a degree in technical management. He is retired after 37 years as a defense contractor at Wright-Patterson AFB. He is also an Air Force Vietnam veteran and is active with the Dayton Honor Flight organization. He has presented UDOLLI seminars on the Bourbon Trail, A Look Back at Andy Griffith and The Evolution of the Dayton VA Center.

Christian History: Part III — Reformations, Revolutions and the Modern Age

With a solid basis on which to stand from Parts I and II, we will now explore the fractioning of Christianity into various sects. Information on six of the major divisions of Christianity will be provided. Then we move on to the study of the effects of the French Revolution and the churches' moves into the modern age in which we live; as well as the men and women who were noteworthy. Participants are encouraged to choose a book from their own tradition as a supplement to the history presented (suggested titles will be provided at the first session). NO book is required for this seminar; you may just listen and learn. It is hoped that you will ask questions and offer information you may have as the course proceeds.

6 Thursdays, March 23-April 27

3-5 p.m., ZOOM

Carolann Cannon has been involved in adult faith formation in the Dayton area for more than 35 years. She received a Master of Arts in theological studies from UD in 1986 and is certified as both a catechist and a catechetical leader by the Archdiocese of Cincinnati. Her seminars with UDOLLI have included: Christian History (3 seminars), the Old Testament, the New Testament, Christology: WHO do you say that I am?, the Crusades, Barbarians and the So-called Dark Ages, and the Papacy and the Bishops of Rome.

FRIDAY SEMINARS

Being Catholic in the 21st Century NEW

In Peace and War: Our 32nd President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt

ZOOM

Nearly every poll of presidential scholars ranks FDR in the top five of all American presidents, and usually in the top three. So, what specifically earns him such overwhelming respect and admiration?

In this two-hour Zoom seminar, we'll find out.

We'll begin by recognizing that the catalyst for presidential greatness is the existence of tremendous obstacles: Without such extraordinary challenges, a president's greatness may go forever untested, and unknown.

That level of extreme challenge is why FDR is so often placed in the same category as George Washington and Abraham Lincoln: Without those three presidents' adroit leadership at the most critical junctures in American history, our nation as we know it would not exist.

In our first hour we'll look at FDR's background, the personal and professional crucibles that prepared him for the presidency, and his successes in steering the nation through the travails of the Great Depression.

In our second hour, we'll cover FDR's last two terms, as he led America and the Allies in the wartime struggles against the Axis Powers of World War II. We'll close with an assessment of his many strengths, but also his weaknesses and some significant blind spots.

1 Friday, March 24

9:30-11:30 a.m., ZOOM

Dr. Bud Baker is emeritus professor of management at Wright State University, where he spent 30 years in a variety of teaching and administrative positions. Prior to that, he served for 20 years in the U.S. Air Force, as a Military Airlift Command navigator, strategic air command missile crew commander, U.S. Air Force Academy professor and aircraft acquisition program manager at Wright-Patterson AFB.

A frequent guest speaker in various UDOLLI seminars, this will be Dr. Baker's second seminar as a moderator and he is very much looking forward to the opportunity.

You Too Can Take Great Photos! NEW

Join this two-hour workshop and you will learn how to dramatically improve your photographic skills. This workshop is less about the camera you use, and more about how to capture and share great moments. We will discuss how to select the right subject, incorporate emotions into our photos, create impact and much more. We will talk about the "rules" of photography, and which ones you should try to incorporate into your photos, and when to ignore them. This is an interactive seminar and I encourage people at all photographic skill levels to join the discussion.

1 Friday, March 31

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Stephen Goldberg is retired from the Eastman Kodak Company where he held various positions in engineering and marketing, leading the development and support of large-scale printing systems. He is a photographer and has participated in UDOLLI for about eight years, during which time he taught seminars on how to use Photoshop and presented several entertaining photographic travelogues. Stephen belongs to several photography clubs and enjoys traveling with his wife, Marsha, sharing the world as seen through the lens of his camera. He was recently invited to conduct this same workshop in Budapest where he also participated in an international art exhibition.

Let's Talk About Cats NEW

 ZOOM

There are more than 58 million pet cats in America. This participatory Zoom seminar will explore the importance of domesticated cats in our lives. We have loved our pets as kids and young adults, but as we age, pets become an important source of companionship and comfort. During this one-day session participants will learn some interesting facts about the feline world and will share how their own cats have improved the quality of their lives. This is a single, two-hour Zoom seminar. Feel free to bring your cat!

She has provided expert-consulting support in the areas of system needs assessment, requirements analysis and system specification to a variety of government and industrial customers. Fran's professional experience has included all aspects of software design, development, testing, installation, implementation, maintenance and support, as well as experience with a number of relevant technology bases.

Get Ready for the 2023 and 2024 Great American Eclipses NEW

Media outlets are stirring in anticipation of two coming solar eclipses whose tracks (at different times) will cut a crisscross pattern over the USA. We can expect much "sorta correct" and incomplete information. If you are interested in observing either of these relatively rare phenomena, especially if you have never experienced a solar eclipse, this seminar will equip you with practical advice and important safety information. You will learn the science behind these events, how to select observing locations, how to view eclipses safely, what to expect as the event progresses, and what to do and NOT do during an eclipse.

1 Friday, April 14

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Bill Russo is a retired electronics engineer and Sinclair College professor who developed a lifelong interest in the heavens as a result of elementary school field trips to the American Museum of Natural History — Hayden Planetarium in New York City. He holds a Master of Engineering degree from Cornell University.

History of Folk Music 20th Century NEW

The seminar will start from Jimmie Rodgers to the Carter family and then Woodie Guthrie. Pete Seiger and the Weavers will follow. The seminar continues to the early 50s and 60s including the Kingston Trio, Peter Paul and Mary, Joan Baez, Bob Dylan, Judy Collins and many more.

2 Fridays, April 14, 21

9:30-11:30 a.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Gary Ruff has degrees from Wright State University and University of Dayton. He is a retired high school teacher. Hobbies include music and adult softball. He previously moderated over 50 seminars through UDOLLI. Gary has over 4,000 45 RPM records from mostly the 50s, 60s and 70s. Gary has moderated History of Sci-Fi Films, Major Events of the 20th Century and many music seminars.

Paul Harvey Remembered — The Rest of the Story

Do you remember the radio announcer Paul Harvey when you were growing up? Chuck Brecht sure does. Chuck loved listening to Paul's short common-sense articles on numerous subjects of current events. He would build his stories and after giving a surprise ending would use the phrase "and now you know the rest of the story."

This seminar would be a compilation of subjects he discussed on his shows and how they relate to life today. This is not meant to be a political discussion but a look back at how he simply viewed the world.

1 Friday, April 21

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Chuck Brecht is a graduate of Capital University with a degree in technical management. He is retired after 37 years as a defense contractor at Wright-Patterson AFB. He is also an Air Force Vietnam veteran and is active with the Dayton Honor Flight organization. He has presented UDOLLI seminars on the Bourbon Trail, A Look Back at Andy Griffith and The Evolution of the Dayton VA Center.

What is Pickleball? NEW

ZOOM

This one-day Friday Zoom seminar will introduce anyone to the increasingly popular sport of pickleball. If you are just curious, it will explain what the game's appeal is and whom it attracts. It will describe the game in general and suggest where interested newcomers can learn and practice actual play. Learn how much it costs, what ages play locally, what indoor and outdoor facilities are available and how easy it is to get started. For those who wish to follow up with some actual practice on area courts, a practice schedule will be announced. This informational seminar is not to be confused with the six-week Wednesday seminar entitled "Beginner Pickleball."

1 Friday, April 28

9:30-11:30 a.m., ZOOM

Mary Riordan is a retired educator and guidance counselor. She has moderated seminars for UDOLLI on several topics including technology, geocaching, conversation skills, photo books and grandparenting.

Radioactive Isotopes: Their Properties and Diverse Applications

Following brief overviews of radioactivity and nuclear reactions, the conventional applications for radioactive isotopes will be described. Particular attention will be given to Polonium-210, Tritium and Plutonium-238 that were processed at the Mound Laboratory (Miamisburg, OH) for use in nuclear weapons, spacecraft power systems and other devices. Novel or unusual commercial applications of the radioactive elements radium, thorium and uranium will also be discussed. Numerous historical examples of domestic products that have been manufactured containing uranium and other radioactive isotopes are identified and described including those used for health and medical applications that extend from truly beneficial to complete quackery.

1 Friday, April 28

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Dr. Bob Bowman is a former Monsanto Mound senior research staff member who is also retired from the Oak Ridge National Laboratory (TN) and the Jet Propulsion Laboratory (CA). Bob is a member of several historical organizations and is currently a trustee on the board of directors for the Mound Museum of Science and Energy Association. He has previously presented seminars for UDOLLI on the Manhattan Project, Monsanto and other topics. Bob holds a B.S. (Miami U.), M.S. (MIT) and Ph.D. (Caltech) degrees in chemistry.

Techniques for Beautiful Greeting Cards to Donate to Children NEW

Participants can come and leave at any time, and create as many cards as they like. We will be making Birthday cards and Encouragement cards. Participants are free to bring any supplies or tools that they would like to use. We will have machines such as Big Shot and Sidekick, assortment of dies, embellishments and card bases available. There will be instructions for simple cards, but participants are also encouraged to design their own cards.

This is also an opportunity for those who have been curious about cardmaking to come and give it a try.

Our goal is to make 100 cards to send to this charity — Cards for Cubs: Giving Hope to Kids and Young Adults in Foster Care.

Cards For Cubs is a 501(c)(3) charitable organization whose mission is to give hope to kids and young adults in foster care while bringing awareness to the foster care system. We work with foster care agencies across the United States to help distribute handmade cards to kids who may feel forgotten by the world. Let's tell them that they are loved and cherished!

Materials Fee: $5

1 Friday, May 5

12:30-2:30 p.m., Daniel J. Curran Place

Bobbie Goetz is a paper-crafter enthusiast. She teaches paper crafting and stamping seminars and has moderated for UDOLLI since 2018.

Lynn Wilmes became a paper crafter in 2018, when she caught the bug taking a UDOLLI seminar. She began moderating with Bobbie in 2019.

UDOLLI AT NIGHT

Mayan Civilization

Join OLLI and Dr. Elmo (Joe) Roach on a Mayan adventure. From 1800 B.C. Mayan civilization spread across what is now southern Mexico, Belize and Guatemala. We will explore the Mayan Calendar, Astronomy and their 10-digit numbering system, then delve into the newest Light Detection and Ranging (LIDAR) assisted archaeology at the majestic site at Tikal Guatemala. In 800 A.D. the population of Tikal was 60,000, while Rome, the largest city in Western Europe, was 50,000. Dr. Roach's recent trip to the renowned ruins at Palenque, Chiapas Mexico, will be examined, as will the famous ruins at Uxmal, Yucatán Mexico. Vast new discoveries at El Mirador Guatemala, population 90,000 in 800 A.D., promise to dwarf all previous Mayan sites, and will be our final visit. And we will finish with a brief stop at the Museum of Anthropology in Mexico City.

1 Tuesday, March 28

6-8 p.m., ZOOM

Dr. Elmo E. Roach is a USMC veteran. He graduated from Chaminade H.S. in 1956. He earned his B.A. from UD in 1963, his M.A. in 1965 and his Ph.D. in Russian history from The Ohio State University in 1968. In the 1990s, he directed American-Russian projects with academic and research partners, serving as a consultant for Caterpillar Inc. joint venture efforts in Russia and Siberia. In 1994, Dr. Roach was selected as a foreign Member of the Russian Academy of Natural Sciences, Moscow. He is an emeritus professor of history at Bradley University, Peoria, IL. In retirement, he has sharpened his interests in, and made numerous expeditions to, the sites of Mayan civilization.*

The Wizardry of Our Political Landscape; Let's Look Behind the Curtain NEW

This three-part virtual seminar will provide insight and analysis that transcends grievance politics and opens the door to the wisdom of scholars. Political scientists will guide the discussion pertaining to recent and upcoming SCOTUS cases. The question of the stability of our democracy vs. a careening toward an autocracy will be explored in the context of the importance of local elections. An explanation of Christian Nationalism will examine how this concept can serve as an underpinning for legislative priorities.

3 Tuesdays, March 21-April 4

6-8 p.m., ZOOM

Valerie Lee has worked with a number of nonpartisan voter services organizations.*

ATTENDENCE

We encourage you to attend all seminars and activities for which you have registered. Our moderators volunteer their time so it is important for them to know it is valued and appreciated.

- If you are registered for seminars and circumstances prevent you from attending seminars, before the session begins or after the session has started, please call Special Programs and Continuing Education at 937-229-2347 to cancel your seminar registration.
- An early cancellation helps another member attend a seminar that was full or at its capacity.
- Do not attend a seminar for which you have not registered, because some seminars have seminar limits or recommended text readings or materials.

OTHER CONTINUING EDUCATION PROGRAMS AT UD

SENIOR FELLOWS

If you are 60 years of age or better, you can become a UD Senior Fellow. Membership in the Senior Fellows program includes the privilege of attending any two seminars for which you meet the prerequisite—undergraduate—each term on an audit basis.

(Books and special fees are extra.)

DAYTON CELEBRATION CHORUS

The Dayton Celebration Chorus is an adult community chorus that serves the city of Dayton and the Miami Valley region. Open to all interested adult singers and requiring no audition, the Chorus sings a diverse repertoire of both sacred and secular choral literature, with an emphasis on American music. Founded in 2003 as the Schuster Center Celebration Choir, the organization was first sponsored by the Victoria Theatre Association. In 2014, the group affiliated with the University of Dayton Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education.

Performance venues have included the Schuster Center for the Performing Arts, Courthouse Square Grande Illumination, Kroc Center, Dayton Art Institute, Victoria Theatre, The Greene, UD Arena, Fifth Third Field, and various churches and retirement communities. Chorus members have enjoyed performance opportunities with the Dayton Philharmonic Orchestra's Holiday Festival Community Chorus, the UD New Horizons Band, the Miami Valley Symphony, and various guest artists and conductors. DCC has been selected annually to sing the National Anthem for the Dayton Dragons at Fifth Third Field.

For registration information, please visit:

Udayton.edu/continuing_education/noncredit_offerings/daytoncelebrationchorus/.

NEW HORIZONS MUSIC

Learn to play music in a band as a senior adult—even if you have no musical experience! Playing music is a special joy that will help you maintain mental and physical health. It is also a way of experiencing life—playing music from the past keeps us in touch with those feelings; daily practice keeps us active in the present; and striving for new goals attaches us to the future. One band member describes it as “serious fun.”

As a member of New Horizons Music, you will meet new friends and work with them as a team to learn music for concerts and other performances in the community. New Horizons ensembles typically perform many times each year in venues ranging from formal concerts to shopping malls and from parks to retirement and nursing homes.

UD New Horizons Music offers adults 50 years of age or better the opportunity to begin a musical instrument and provides a re-entry point for those who have been away from active music making for many years. Instruments taught include: flute, oboe, bassoon, clarinet, saxophone, trumpet, French horn, trombone, baritone, tuba and percussion.

For registration information, please visit: https://www.udayton.edu/continuing_education/senior_programs/nhmp/index.php

THE FANTASTIC FLYER FOLLIES

The University of Dayton Special Programs and Continuing Education recently launched a traveling performance company exclusively for seniors. Are you a singer, dancer, musician or actor? Join us! No experience? No problem. Just bring your energy, enthusiasm and most importantly your love of musical theater!

Stay active, have fun and be a part of Dayton's Fantastic Flyer Follies!

Enrollment is $40 for each 6-month period.

For additional information and how to register, Contact Jacqueline Heman at 937-435-3353, or Barbara Hayde at bhayde043@gmail.com.

SEMINARS IN SEARCH OF A MODERATOR

- African American History
- Art Appreciation 101
- CPR
- How to Avoid Scams
- Ins and Outs of Android-Based Phones
- State Parks of Ohio
- The Buckeye Trail

Are you interested in moderating a seminar?

Moderators are the life blood of our program: without moderators, there's no UDOLLI. If you have a passion for a subject that might be interesting to others, consider offering it as a seminar. It can be a lot of work, but it's almost always very rewarding and a lot of fun. It also comes with perks: free seminars for you and your spouse for a year and complimentary parking for the term in which you teach. Best of all, it's easy! If you'd like to propose a topic, send a proposal to jmitchell1@udayton.edu. Include the following:

1. Your name, mailing address, phone number and email address
2. The title of your seminar, with a brief description of what the seminar participants will learn
3. Any special requirements
4. A brief biography demonstrating your expertise in the subject area and your presentation abilities.

Let us know if you'd like a sample proposal. Julie Mitchell, the executive director of UD's office of Special Programs and Continuing Education, will discuss your seminar proposal with the UDOLLI curriculum committee. If your topic is selected, you'll be asked to fill out a moderator/seminar information form. This will give us the information we need for our program catalog, explain your room setup and audio/visual requirements, and tell us the days and times you're available to moderate.

CONNECTING GENERATIONS & CULTURES

A TALENT BANK & CLEARING HOUSE PROGRAM

With age comes experience and wisdom that can be priceless when shared with others

1. What Is This Program About?

The UDOLLI Connecting Generations & Cultures (CGC) program connects UDOLLI to the Dayton area community utilizing our vibrant, highly educated, experienced and talented members. Connecting Generations & Cultures is a Talent Bank & Clearing House program for community organizations. We put your talents to work by connecting you to organizations to help carry out their mission. As members of our program, many of you are ready and anxious to share your decades of knowledge, experience and wisdom with those who can benefit.

2. Connecting Criteria

The CGC program has been reaching out to various community groups, and many have reached out to us. We connect to organizations that meet any one of these criteria: is it educational, cultural, civic, social, governmental, inter-generational? Can our members and the organization's members contribute to and benefit from the connection experience? As opportunities come along we promote them to UDOLLI members. Check out our connected organizations at right. Let us know of any organizations you feel would make a good connection with our program.*

*NOTE: A recommendation is no guarantee we will make a connection. We carefully review every idea to ensure it fits within UDOLLI's mission and the objectives of the Connecting Generations & Cultures program. Our Executive Director makes all final decisions. All UDOLLI members involved with any Connecting Generations & Cultures program must understand and accept that they represent the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Dayton and must adhere to all rules and regulations that may apply to the University and our program.

3. Connecting You

Here's how we get you connected. We communicate an organization's needs in a variety of ways: email, newsletter, seminar announcements, special presentations and promotional flyers. You'll learn about the organization, decide if you're interested and then you reach out to the organization's contact directly. You are then on your way to a new adventure.

Your connection could be for a single project or an ongoing program.

For example, you could share your ideas during a creative planning session or work with the organization on a regular basis to carry on their mission. There may be several of your fellow UDOLLI members involved in the same activity, or it might be just you. Whatever project or organization you get involved with, you will meet new friends and perhaps build lifelong relationships. You may even find that a connection can be life changing. You may be a senior, but you're not done yet! You can share your years of experience and wisdom to make our community a better place.

4. Our Connected Partners

The following list includes all organizations to-date we have connected with since the inception of CGC in 2013. With some of our connections our members have been deeply involved working on a variety of projects, while with others we are just getting started in making deeper connections. The connection may currently be active or inactive. Our members have contributed their expertise in a variety of ways: teaching, mentoring, donating, facilitating deliberation discussions, and facilitating creative and strategic planning sessions.

1. National Issues Forums Institute (Kettering Foundation)
2. Mound Street Academies
3. Miracle Clubhouse (Miami Valley Goodwill Easter Seals)
4. Ohio Law Enforcement Association
5. UD Center for International Programs
6. UD Center for Human Rights
7. UD Alumni Mentoring
8. The Collaboratory
9. The Dayton Foundation Del Mar Encore Program
10. Discovery Lab Global
11. Village to Village Network
12. Miami Valley Foodbank
13. Hillel Academy

REGISTRATION AND RELATED INFORMATION

Remember these helpful tips and important facts as you register.

- The $80 registration fee entitles you to select as many seminars as you wish.
- Payment is due when you register. Your confirmation letter serves as your receipt/invoice.
- You can register for UDOLLI seminars online or by phone or fax. Email requests will not be accepted.
- Seminars may be canceled if fewer than 10 persons register. You will be notified should that occur.
- Once a seminar reaches its specified “seminar limit,” you will be waitlisted and notified if an opening occurs.
- If you cannot attend the first day of your seminar, please let us know by calling 937-229-2347. Otherwise, you may be withdrawn from the seminar.

About refunds. To receive a refund of your $80 registration fee, please notify Special Programs and Continuing Education, 937-229-2347, by March 13, 2023. After that date, refunds are not given.

Parking permits. In order to park on campus, everyone must properly display a valid University of Dayton permit. This also includes handicapped-designated spaces.

The fee for parking is $60 per permit issued; however, as a courtesy and thank you for your continuing support of the UDOLLI, especially during the pandemic, we are offering one pass per household free of charge to you. If a spouse or someone else in the household requires a second permit, the fee of $60 will apply.

After you have registered and prior to the start of the spring program, you will be contacted by the Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education with regard to ordering your parking permit. You may then stop by the office during the first week of seminars to pick up the permit you have ordered. Office hours are Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

The R1 permit is also valid on the main campus, after 4 p.m. weekdays; open parking (without a permit) is allowed on weekday evenings after 7:30 p.m. and on weekends.

Once you receive your permit, please keep it in a safe place for use during the program. Remember to display it properly from the rearview mirror. Lost or stolen permits, as well as parking citations, are the responsibility of the member. Replacement permits cost $60 per person, per permit.

Face coverings remain optional in most shared indoor spaces on campus.

REGISTRATION PROCEDURES

You can register for UDOLLI seminars online by phone or fax. Due to the popularity of UDOLLI seminars, please register promptly and whenever applicable, please indicate 1st, 2nd and/or 3rd choices, if registering by telephone or fax. If registering online, selections are live, so alternative choices are unnecessary.

Online Registration—Recommended Registration Option (beginning Monday February 6 at 9 a.m.)

Each registrant will need to have his/her own individual email address. (Payment is required at time of registration.) While there are two methods to register, the online choice is recommended. Online registration begins Monday, February 6 at 9 a.m.—telephone requests will be accepted on/after Monday, February 13.

Please contact the Special Programs and Continuing Education Office prior to February 6, for information on pre-registering an online profile if one has not already been created for you. If unsure, the office can assist with information regarding profiles, setting up email accounts or other registration questions.

HOW TO REGISTER

To access the registration site, there are three options:

Online (Beginning Monday, February 6)

1. Go directly to the online registration site at: <https://udayton.eventsair.com/udolli/Spring23reg>
