

10-year-old rape victim forced to travel from Ohio to Indiana for abortion

Case places prominent anti-abortion figures in position of balancing rights of women and girls while defending restrictions

THE INDEPENDENT

'This is a Catholic country': Woman dies of septicaemia after being refused an abortion in Irish hospital

David McKiltrick
Wednesday, 14 November 2012

The death in Ireland of a woman whose repeated requests for an abortion were turned down - reportedly because "this is a Catholic country" - has sparked international protests and condemnation.

Should Patients Be Allowed to Die From Anorexia?

Treatment wasn't helping her anorexia, so doctors allowed her to stop — no matter the consequences. But is a "palliative" approach to mental illness really ethical?

Summer 2024: PHL 315 Medical Ethics

Session 1 (5/13 -6/22), Online - Asynchronous

Fulfills CAP Requirements 1) Practical Ethical Action 2) Advanced Philosophical Study

When Doctors Refuse to Treat LGBT Patients

A new law in Mississippi makes it legal for physicians and therapists to opt out of care on religious grounds. What does this mean for medicine?

Embryo 'Adoption' Is Growing, but It's Getting Tangled in the Abortion Debate

By Caroline Lester

When Doctors Need to Lie

By SANDEEP JAUHAR FEB. 22, 2014

How Unconscious Bias in Health Care Puts Pregnant Black Women at Higher Risk

Many Black women report feeling ignored or dismissed by doctors. The consequences can be deadly for mothers and babies.

For Belgium's Tormented Souls, Euthanasia-Made-Easy Beckons

By NAFTALI BENDAVID