A local charity which serves the poor in the Dayton area will receive 10% of every Sunday collection. The rest of the collection supports more than 100 Campus Ministry programs of all kinds, including our Service Program of the Week: Gamma Epsilon Lambda, a co-ed service fraternity focusing on leadership and service. This group strives to help the community through a variety of service opportunities such as African Refugee Tutoring, CHEERS (Communities Helping Each and Everyone Reach Success) and many more organizations.

Spotlight on...

For Lent this year I am going to fast and pray to find actions that help others. I know I have limitations and I know I have possibilities. I would like to celebrate Easter offering to God what I have done through asking for help in prayer and fasting to control my desires so that I offer something to those in need.

The fasting will be the discipline of listening to what is going on around me and especially to people in my life. This can lead to concrete actions that I can realistically accomplish.

My prayer is going to reflect on the needs of those with whom I live, study and work. I am going to listen to people in my area who show they are in need. The prayer brings forth a centering enabling a realism.

I am going to pay attention to places in the world where people are suffering. I am going to reflect and dialogue with others about the national election and determine how I am going to vote. I am going to celebrate at Easter by offering to God what I have done.

The ashes of next Wednesday, followed by the forty days of the Lenten Spring started out as a period for people to prepare themselves for commitment to a life immersed into the life of Christ. Through the Christian centuries, it developed into 40 days in union with the days Jesus spent in the desert before he began his ministry.

The ritual now is to pray, fast and give alms. For me to make these real so that I do offer myself to be in union with Christ through the 40 days and then at Easter hopefully I will do what I mentioned above.

Blessings,
Fr. Ted Cassidy
