

Marianist Student Communities

Inspired by the Marianist Charism of bringing the Gospel message of Jesus to our world, students commit to live together and be a witness of Christian community to their peers in the student neighborhood. The communities strive to incorporate the Marianist Charism and the Commitment to Community into their everyday lives.

Students living in intentional Marianist Student Communities (MSC) commit to the following expectations:

- Be a praying community, gathering one or two times a week for prayer
- Share at least one or two meals together each week
- Attend Marianist formation in-service programs
- Meet regularly with community mentors
- Engage the larger community as a house of hospitality through events that bring neighbors together in the Marianist spirit
- Collaborate with their respective Neighborhood Fellow and participate in his/her programs
- Follow the rules and regulations in the University Student Code of Conduct concerning gatherings and/or parties and the use of alcohol
- Participate in Catholic and Marianist activities on campus, especially those sponsored by the Office for Mission and Rector
- Respect each other, discussing issues and problems openly, consistent with the Commitment to Community document
