

February 2016 Isidore Update

Good afternoon, Instructors.

Happy midterms! Take a break from grading and read about the latest offerings from the E-Learning Lab.

In this month's update, learn about:

- Phase II of the Attendance tool
- New Training Opportunities
- Isidore by the Numbers

Phase II of Isidore's Attendance tool released

We're pleased to announce that Phase II of Isidore's Attendance tool was released early this month. To learn more about the latest improvements and new features that have been added, visit this page or watch our video demo.

New training opportunities

Some new training sessions are being offered by the E-Learning Lab in the near future.

Isidore eQuality – 10 Practical Tips for Accessibility

Thursday, March 17th, 11:00 am – 12:00 pm, LTC Meeting Space 028

During the session, E-Learning staff will share some practical ways you can make your Isidore course content accessible to all learners. Some of the topics will include transcription, text formatting, and alternative text.

How your Students Wished you used Isidore

Tuesday, March 22nd, 10:00 am – 11:00 am, LTC Meeting Space 028

Have you ever wondered what students thought of your Isidore course? During the session, E-Learning staff will share some of the findings from their student think tank. Participants will learn how students prefer their Isidore courses to be structured and how they prefer their instructors to interact with them.

View a complete list of training opportunities or register for training sessions

Isidore by the Numbers

Did you know that during the Fall 2015 semester...

- Over 2.1 million Isidore logins occurred
- Over 13,000 unique people logged into Isidore
- Monday was Isidore's busiest day, with an average of 9,111 students, faculty, and staff logging in
- 136,007 assignments were submitted through Isidore
- 90,696 exams & quizzes were taken through Isidore
- More than 200 students utilized the Write Place's Digital Drop-Off service for writing assistance in 119 courses - Learn more about Digital Drop-Off
- 17% of Isidore logins occurred through tablets and mobile devices

We hope that midterms progress smoothly for you, and please let us know if we can assist you or your students.

The E-Learning Lab
\(937\) 229-5039
elarning@udayton.edu