Lactation Room Terms of Use & Release

Updated 5/2022

The University of Dayton strives to support faculty, staff, students, and guests who are people who are nursing by providing comfortable and private lactation rooms in campus buildings. This document (Terms of Use & Release) states the terms for use of the lactation rooms and provides location and access information.

All lactation rooms have sinks within the space or nearby. All rooms (with the exception of Alumni Hall) have refrigerators. Rooms are equipped with a comfortable chair, table, electrical outlet, and paper towels. People who are nursing will need to supply their own pumps and pump attachments.

LOCATIONS & ACCESS INFORMATION

Most of the lactation rooms are access-controlled through card readers, so faculty, staff, students, and guests must contact the Women's Center at 937-229-5390 or by emailing caregiving@udayton.edu to be granted access. They will be given the Terms of Use, which must be signed and returned to the Women's Center prior to use. Guests of the University may access the lactation rooms by contacting the Women's Center or by requesting access as outlined below.

TERMS OF USE

- The lactation rooms are a comfortable and private place for people who are nursing.
- Please read and sign the Use & Release below before using any of the lactation rooms, even if you do not plan to store breast milk in the units.
- The rooms are not scheduled. A white board has been provided so that you can share with others when you plan to regularly use the rooms. It is not required that you share this information or use this space regularly, but the more you share such information with your peers, the more likely the space can be used efficiently and conveniently by all.

- The University of Dayton cannot guarantee that any items left in these spaces are secure. Any items that are lost, damaged, stolen, or destroyed for any reason or by any cause, the University is not responsible.
- Maintain the cleanliness of the space. Report any concerns, damage, or cleaning needs to the Women’s Center at 937-229-5390, caregiving@udayton.edu, or by using the QR code in the lactation rooms.
- If you have any suggestions for how to improve the operation of this space or how we can better assist nursing faculty, staff, students, and guests, please share your ideas with the Women’s Center at 937-229-5390, caregiving@udayton.edu, or by using the QR code in the lactation rooms.

RELEASE

I am aware that the University is providing a refrigerator in a secure room. I understand and hereby acknowledge that if my breast milk is damaged, lost, stolen or destroyed for any reason or by any cause, including but not limited to acts of God, nature, weather, fire, theft or otherwise, the University is not responsible.

I, the undersigned, do hereby release, hold harmless, indemnify, waive and discharge the University of Dayton and all its officers, agents, and employees from and against any claims, demands, actions or causes of action arising from damages I may suffer or sustain by my storing my breast milk in the lactation room.

The undersigned acknowledges having read and understood the foregoing informed consent form.
